

TCA Main Line Through City, Official Hints

BY CHESTER BLOOM
Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, Oct. 31.—President W. J. Symington of Trans-Canada Airlines told the house committee on railways and shipping today that among the first extensions of air service planned is the line from Winnipeg to Saskatoon and Edmonton, adding "it may go to the coast."

The remark implies a second main line route west from Winnipeg to the Pacific coast, and the north of the present Winnipeg to the coast line.

Mr. Symington also told the committee that the Trans-Canada route from Seattle to Vancouver was feeling a lot of American business into the Trans-Canada main transcontinental line to the east and New York service from the transcontinental route to New York.

MANY REQUESTS
It was surprising how many requests had come from people all the way west to California asking for service on this line.

There were fewer stops and there was the security but there was a great deal of popularity. The equipment was smaller than the U.S. transcontinental air line but faster and it was a "smiling service."

The first extension probably would be a fourth transcontinental flight on TCA, Mr. Symington said.

The TCA now has 230 pilots in service and is training 100 more. The company has 1000 mechanics and 1000 ground crew members.

Mr. Symington said that the company was training 1000 more pilots and 1000 more mechanics and 1000 more ground crew members.

U.S. Wages

ization Administrator John C. Collet to approve wage increases under three classifications. The first was the Labor Board has found increases necessary to correct "misadjustments" in the economy.

This would permit raises:

1. Where the percentage increase in average hourly earnings since January, 1941, has not equaled the increase in the cost of living between January, 1941, and September, 1945.

2. Where necessary to correct inequalities in wage rates among plants in the same industry or locality, "with due regard to normal competitive relationships."

3. Where necessary to insure full production in an industry designated by the stabilization director, as essential to reconstruction "and in which existing wage rates and salaries are inadequate to the recruitment of needed manpower."

AID TO BUILDING
The latter classification, some persons thought, might be made applicable to the building industry. The president declared American "steel" drop concerns about full employment legislation "which he recommended and which has been stated in Congress."

The American people are entitled to know that the government stands for property and jobs—not depression and relief," he declared.

"Passage of a full employment bill will give the American people the assurance."

The president declared that wage increases are important to the economy. The shock to our workers, to maintain adequate purchasing power and to raise the national income."

BIG PAY CUTS
"I wonder how many of you know that many war veterans have been ready to take, or will soon have to take, a cut in their wartime pay by one-quarter or more."

"If nothing is done to help the workers in this situation, millions of families will have to tighten their belts by several inches."

The president said the United States must "above all else hold the line of prices in general, and hold the line of wages in particular."

Mr. Truman called for return to "the teamwork which we had during the war" and "the cooperation of labor and management."

"Labor and management must adopt collective bargaining as the effective and normal way of doing business. As a free people, we must have the good sense to bargain peacefully and honestly."

CAN AFFORD RAISES
He said he believed "industry as a whole can afford substantial wage increases without price increases," but added there were substantial limits to the amount of industry to raise wages without commensurate climbs in prices.

Hence, said the president, "public opinion will not countenance refusal on the part of either management or labor... to arrive at just conclusions... in no way to our economy for unfair dealing or for greedy individuals or groups who want their own way regardless of the cost to others."

Japan Labor Plans Entry Into Politics

TOKYO, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Japanese labor, reactivated under Allied occupation policy, currently has united and plans to use politics as a vehicle of advancement.

The agreement for union action was reached at a meeting of Komeiichi Matsuo, head of the Conservative Japan Trade Union Congress, and Kenji Kato, head of the left wing National Council of Japanese Labor Unions. They will sponsor a meeting Friday to create a Socialist Party.

On the occupation front, counter-espionage officers jailed a dozen Nazis, including a number of German members of the Reichstag. The officers were charged with "bullying and terrorism." Most of the arrests were made in the Reichstag building.

Meisner himself was arrested weeks ago. Four of his aides, including his secretary, were charged with conspiracy.

Others jailed included Wilhelm Seidel, self-styled "Nazi No. 1" in the United States before the war, and was reported member of Hitler's SS Corps. Charles Schmidt, a German, a San Francisco policeman, was charged with espionage.

The following is the standing of cities up to Tuesday evening:

Leithbridge $2,000,000 100
Red Deer 339,000 67
Calgary 4,071,000 83
Medicine Hat 280,000 56

W.M. Neal Here South of Manchurian Border

At eleven o'clock Wednesday morning, Mr. Neal, accompanied by a military escort, arrived at the South Manchurian Railway station in the city of Harbin. He was met by a group of officials and a large crowd of people.

The CP officials said that the Chinese Communist Party had been operating in the Manchurian border in China's civil war. They have occupied two coastal cities in the area where the U.S. Seventh Fleet landed a Central Government army Monday.

National Housing Loans
Now Total 600 Monthly

By P. W. DEMPSON

Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, Oct. 31.—Loans for the construction of approximately 5,000 houses across Canada will be provided before the end of 1945 through the National Housing Administration, Reconstruction Minister C. D. Howe said Tuesday. Applications for loans are being approved at the rate of nearly 600 per month.

Maritime Miners
Get Raise in Pay

GLACE BAY, N.S., Oct. 31.—(CP)—

United Mine Workers of America—Members of District 20 of the (U.M.W.), have voted almost five to one in favor of accepting the National War Labor Board's recommendation for renewal of a wage contract between Maritime coal mine operators and the miners.

Twenty-eight of thirty locals gave 8,500 in favor of accepting the board's decision with 1,447 against. Acceptance of the board's recommendations by the Maritime coal miners will result in the drawing up of a two-year contract retroactive to Feb. 1, 1945, and continuing to Jan. 31, 1947.

It will provide the men with a wage increase of 17 cents per man per shift and two weeks' holiday with pay instead of one, the extra week's holiday to be taken during the Christmas-New Year's period.

Villeneuve Back
From Mexico Trip

QUEBEC, Oct. 31.—(CP)—A crowd of several thousand men, women and children yesterday gave a noisy welcome to Cardinal Villeneuve, Archbishop of Quebec, upon his return from Mexico City where he attended celebrations in honor of Our Lady of Guadalupe as Papal legate last week.

The National Housing Act, under which loans are made, has been in effect since January 1, 1945.

Mr. Howe said a number of limited dividend housing corporations are being formed throughout Canada, and that negotiations between the government and some of these corporations have been completed.

A limited dividend housing corporation undertakes to build and manage dwelling units to be leased at low rentals. It cannot pay its shareholders more than five per cent on their money. It must pay back, over a period of not more than 30 years, the government's loan for the project at three per cent interest.

LOW-INCOME FAMILIES

The housing act provides that these projects will be occupied by low income families—those whose monthly incomes are less than five per cent of the construction cost of the accommodation they need.

The number of houses that War-time Housing Limited will complete this year depends on labor and material supplies and on weather conditions, the minister said. This crown company is given priority assistance in buying materials for the erection of low-rental dwellings for veterans and their families.

War-time Housing has completed close to 1,500 houses to date, and these are all occupied. The company has let contracts for the construction of nearly 4,500 additional houses which are now being built.

The Department of Veterans' Affairs estimates that about 800 new houses will be built under the Veterans' Land Act by the end of 1945. An additional 2,000 are under construction.

War Assets Sells
Some Goods Abroad

OTTAWA, Oct. 31.—(CP)—Reconstruction Minister Howe said in a report tabled in the Commons yesterday that Canada has disposed of $24,221 worth of equipment to other nations through the War Assets Corporation since VE-Day.

During discussion of Defence Minister Abbott's army estimates, Col. Cechman said: "It is well known in the army that unfortunately many of the senior permanent force officers have always been subject to politics, whether at the hands of the Liberal party or the Conservative party. Which ever party is in power, they are guided by the wishes of that party."

"The minister will realize that when Gen. Simonds (Lt.-Gen. Guy Simonds, Canadian Army commander in Europe) retired Maj. Macfarlane he did so because Maj. Macfarlane was not carrying out his wishes in regard to demobilization."

Anglican Bishop
Asked to Russia

VICTORIA, Oct. 31.—(CP)—Bp.

Rev. H. F. Sexton, Anglican Bishop of British Columbia, said yesterday he has been invited to visit Russia during the latter part of December. "Chances of acceptance on my part are remote just now," he said. "Getting away at Christmas time would be difficult. However, I haven't decided definitely whether or not I will accept." Bishop Sexton received the invitation from Gen. Zarusin, Russian ambassador to Canada.

To Continue
Registration
In Dominion

By P. W. DEMPSON

Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, Oct. 31.—With possibly some revision, national registration in Canada will likely be continued during peacetime. While it is admitted by the government that the present system of registration is not perfect, the authorities have found the registration invaluable for many things besides its prime purpose of aiding in the mobilization of the armed forces.

With a few changes they feel that registration, in effect since 1940, should be carried on since a variety of uses has been made of it.

Labor Minister Humphrey Mitchell said Monday that registration is being continued on its wartime basis. Some protests have been received by the government that registration, now that the war is over, should be dropped. A continuation of it tends to a "regimentation" of the people, some of the critics claim, and while this was all right during the war, it is not necessary now.

Mr. Mitchell said a "more practical registration system" may be introduced, but for the time being the present system will be carried on.

The identification feature of national registration is perhaps its most important one now, and requests for reference to the matter file in Ottawa have turned the head office into an unofficial "missing persons bureau."

The reason for this is that only National Registration has on file the names and addresses of practically every person in Canada 15 years of age and over.

The registration is still widely used by the services in rounding up deserters and draft dodgers. Police make considerable use of it. Employers can tell whether applicants for positions are over 16. The provinces base their liquor rationing on registration, stamping the back of an individual's national registration card when issuing him a liquor ration book.

Public opinion polls show clearly what people on this continent want in their postwar car.

1. First comes Economy. And the Nash "600" delivers 30 to 35 miles on a gallon of gas at moderate highway speeds. That's 500 to 600 miles on a single tankful!
2. Next, the public wants a car easier to operate... yet a big car. Nash gets away fast, steers easier, parks sharper, turns shorter... with plenty of headroom, legroom, elbowroom for six big people.
3. Lastly, people want easier riding, more comfort, improved ventilation and soundproof insulation. Nash has individual coil spring suspension on all four wheels... the Nash conditioned air system... the most efficient soundproof insulation.

NOW... to these expected improvements add THIS: The Nash "600" is the first truly lightweight BIG car, built of a single integral unit of welded steel, eliminating a quarter of a ton of dead weight, adding strength and safety and ending any possibility of body squeaks and rattles. And you can even obtain this car equipped with a built-in convertible double bed, turning the car into a sportsman's dream.

The Nash "600" is actually, AHEAD of public demand!

Vote Campaign

"Perhaps quite rightly" they had enough to do with their own business, but he added, working people took more interest in civic affairs and knew more about them.

EQUAL ATTENTION

After touching on the inadequacy of present street lighting he undertook that if he were elected, every citizen would receive equal attention.

He denied a rumor that he is opposed to trolley buses, adding: "What I did say is that I am opposed to any increased car fares because of the trolley buses." Also a rumor that he is opposed to remodeling the Dawson Creek huts but, "I am opposed to these being kept permanently to develop into slums after the need has passed."

He warned the meeting that a new system to run buses over the high level bridge will be given effect unless you elect a council opposed to the project. "The time might come," he went on, "when such a course might be justified, but no one can justify the expenditure of $300,000 while no transportation is provided for outlying districts which have none at all."

He advocated a change in the system of taxation for transit improvements, arguing that the result of the present system is that improvements are made in districts where the comparatively well-to-do live, while working class neighborhoods have to do without because they cannot afford the improvement. A greater share, he argued, should be borne as a charge against the city.

He represented that his years of experience would be given effect if he is elected. "I am in a position to see many ways in which the civic services can be improved. We need to extend utilities to areas where population has changed. We need to develop new recreation centres and a carefully planned police and fire department and a reorganized transportation system to meet the expanding population, including the use of the new privately-owned systems. But he went on to say he would bear in mind the need for economy consistent with service.

REFUNDING CLAIM

Ald. Winslow Hamilton, Citizens' Committee, Mayorally, opening his address, he read an extract from the Edmonton Bulletin of a report of a meeting in which his Mayorally opponent, Ald. Harry Ainlay, was reported as taking personal credit for the refunding of Edmonton's debt. He said that Mayor John W. Fry had done more than any other man to bring about this refunding and that he was not prepared to see him share of that credit.

According to this report it would appear that refunding suddenly dawned upon Ald. Ainlay, and it suddenly blossomed into realization. He said that refunding of the city's debt had been a problem engaging the attention of civic officials for a very long time before Ald. Ainlay's motion was submitted regarding the refunding of the debt. "Ald. Ainlay's motion will agree with this," he said.

He said he was just as disappointed as were other citizens with the state of Edmonton's streets and other facilities, but it was something to complain about them, another to rectify the condition.

He said he was of the opinion that the engineer's department would have far too many of the civic services incorporated in it to permit adequate supervision by the city engineer.

He said that the department was never given the money necessary to carry on all the many activities, and pointed to the fact that only 10 cents of every dollar of the city's income was placed in the department to maintain the numerous functions of the city such as grading, snowing, street paving, etc.

Ald. Hamilton said that senior governments must bear a greater

Share of the cost of social services so that money can be made available for the necessary improvements to the city.

J. W. Skowronski, Civic Democratic Alliance, school trustee, "I come before you as a Civic Democratic Alliance candidate for the school board. I taught school for 10 years, consequently have some knowledge of the school system. I am the father of three children, two of whom are going to school, so I know some of their problems. I am a member of the Rutherford Home and School Association and am a trade unionist, being a member of the United Packing House Workers of America. I don't intend to leave the teaching profession because of strike or inability, but rather because of economic circumstances. The teachers being seriously underpaid."

VISITED SCHOOLS

"Last Friday I visited Victoria High School, McKay, Alex. Taylor, Queen's Avenue and the Port Trail schools. I found the grounds poorly cared for, in some instances unsafe. Judging from the number of desks the schools must be overcrowded. Lighting in some of them very poor and other conditions not of the best."

"I feel that we must have a competent survey made of all our schools of the surrounding population, of the insufficiency of matter where they exist, so that we can as quickly as possible take steps to see that our school accommodation is brought up to high modern standards. For example, showers must be provided. Hot water must be available for washing and hygienic purposes."

Robert J. Boutiller, Civic Democratic Alliance, school trustee, "Conditions in many of Edmonton's schools are not conducive to good health. Some schools in the outlying districts were in deplorable condition, and needed major renovation and repair. Sanitation was not up to standard in many of them."

Mr. Mary Butworth, Citizens' Committee, school trustee, "After attending at meetings of this campaign I am encouraged and cheered by the results of interest in civic affairs. She said that houses and schools were very short supply and it appeared that it was the policy to keep schools down to a minimum. There was not an awakening to the needs of the children, and the school, which have been allowed to run down, should be renovated and improved on a systematic plan. She said that shifts of population within the city necessitated the taking of a survey to determine overall plan for school building. She said that conditions in some schools were deplorable."

CHALLENGE STATEMENT

Ald. J. M. Douglas, Citizens' Committee, Aldermanic, "I challenge Mr. Collins' allegation that 27 firms have been refused admission to Edmonton. This city, he said, is the largest manufacturing centre between Winnipeg and Vancouver, far from industries having been given them every encouragement."

As a member of the transportation committee, he said he had a great deal of sympathy with residents of outlying sections. But he reminded them that, though very short supply of cars, the transportation of the right type had been available. But on the one hand the franchise was essential to serve citizens in the Kingsway district, while on the other it would not have paid the city to purchase the 20-passenger type bus which the tax company was able to put into commission.

J. H. Dowler, Civic Democratic Alliance, Aldermanic, attacked the transportation system which he characterized as "all coked in the first place" and hard to remodel. Wage earners as well as business men were needed on the council, he argued, adding that if the CDA gets a majority the emphasis will be on service.

SERVED BEFORE WAR

F. Armour Ford, K.C., Citizens' Committee, school trustee, said he had served for three years on the school board prior to the war, and had resigned to go overseas. He was interested in the work of the school board which he said was the most important of civic endeavors. He said that present conditions in schools were the result of manpower and material shortages, adding that a start should be made immediately to renovate and modernize outmoded schools, and was prepared to support such a program.

He was not opposed to supporting a general program of new schools as the school population did not warrant such a proposal. He said that tenders would be called for an elementary school in the Delta area in January next. This building would cost approximately $125,000, and the money was in hand to pay for it. It was proposed also to call for tenders for a four-room addition to the Rutherford school to cost $50,000, the funds for which were also available.

Ald. C. E. Garvey, K.C., Citizens' Committee, Aldermanic, "I have been asked to speak on transportation. He suggested that more use should be made of Kingsway, the tracks being already on the ground, by means of one-way main car lines for bus service. If elected he would press, he promised, for a revised report on street car routes having regard to the shifts of population which have taken place."

Dealing with the suggestion that buses should be run over the high level bridge, he said a number of people, especially women, disliked crossing the bridge even in street cars, and he feared money would be wasted to put buses on the bridge only to find that they were of little use in this winter climate. The alternative he suggested would be via 100 street bridge.

B. G. Gillies, Civic Democratic Alliance, Aldermanic, outlined his course of action since coming to Edmonton 32 years ago. He first worked here as a master builder, then was manager of a retail lumber yard, and for 10 years was secretary of the builders' exchange. During the last 15 years he has been selling automobile and fire insurance. He referred to his participation in social work in the city as president of the Westmount Community League for eight years, as vice-president of the Confederation of Community Leagues for one year, and president of that organization for two years.

He said that he was proud of the co-operative building organization he organized three years ago which has financed the erection of 40 houses here at an average cost of $5,000, representing, not a 15 candle-power, but a 3,000-candle. The city has been selling thousands of dollars worth of land each year, the proceeds of which seem to go of general revenue and is dissipated in maintenance costs. These revenues should be re-invested to encourage home-owning, or be the nucleus of a fund for a city housing scheme to provide accommodation for citizens in the lowest income brackets."

W. J. Williams, M.L.A., speaking on behalf of Percy J. Gwynne, Citizens' Committee, Aldermanic, assured the members of the audience that Mr. Gwynne, if elected, would be fearless in his decisions and would not be muzzled by any group. He said he would serve with energy, determination and intelligence, and would base his decisions on the welfare of all. He said that the idea that candidates were the creatures of their nominators should be discarded. There were excellent candidates in the field on the states of the opposing organizations, all of whom could be trusted to vote on all matters as their best judgment dictated.

"I know that Mr. Gwynne cannot be muzzled, and I am convinced that every man on the Citizens' Committee shall not be muzzled. They all recognize that the present time is too serious a period for the pretence of politics. All are determined to do their best for the interests of all citizens of Edmonton."

DEPLORABLE CONDITIONS

R. M. Hart, Civic Democratic Alliance, candidate for school board, referred to "deplorable conditions" he had found at three outlying schools he had visited. He said that without sewage disposal—"and this is Edmonton!" he rejected—and one out of five had found only a little over a hundred feet from the well whence the child drew from their drinking water. There had been some improvement in the heating, he said, but the air in some schools was "stifling."

He spoke of a survey of the inadequate lighting at some, citing, as instance, a specific case of 25 candle-power. When checked it was found that the lighting was only 15 candle-power.

Mrs. Elizabeth Sterling Haynes, Civic Democratic Alliance, school board candidate, said she belonged to the Civic Democratic Alliance, and I'm proud of it. I got my plan from keeping my eyes and ears open to see and hear the ills of the city. I don't need to be told what to do," she added, alluding to the citizens' committee's book that "they haven't been told what to do."

He spoke of a survey of the basic needs of Alameda, King

Edward Park and Forest Heights schools made by the Home and School association with Dr. Mark Levey and of her own discommodities in finding how few of the ills had been remedied.

"I give you my word," she concluded, "that I will put the welfare of our children before the unnecessary excitement of election."

Mrs. Julia Kiniski, Independent Aldermanic, "I am not interested in beauty or anything but humanity. More women are needed in civic affairs."

John H. Lewis, Independent Aldermanic, said that he was not going to make any wild promises of providing paved streets, five-minute transportation facilities, or beautiful parks in the hope of gaining support from electors. He said there was one thing that a person could promise and that is to do his best to further the interest of Edmonton as a whole, and not one small section of it, either geographically or in relation to a single group of the citizen body.

He said that as an Edmonton-born man with a young family, he was interested in the city's welfare and development. He was interested in the erection of homes fit to live in, and was aware of the services which citizens in every section can rightly demand. There must be adequate police and fire protection, adequate health education and recreational facilities so that our children can grow up to be valuable and happy citizens.

Frank J. Newson, Citizens' Committee, school board, "The two years I have served on the school board have just been long enough to Douglas Milner, Civic Democratic Alliance, school trustee, decried the poor sanitary conditions of the Edmonton schools.

NO "WILD PROMISES"

Jack Munro, Citizens' Committee, Aldermanic, said that he was not going to make any wild promises of providing paved streets, five-minute transportation facilities, or beautiful parks in the hope of gaining support from electors. He said there was one thing that a person could promise and that is to do his best to further the interest of Edmonton as a whole, and not one small section of it, either geographically or in relation to a single group of the citizen body.

Wainwright's Story—No. 20

White Flag Flies Over Corregidor As Japs Contacted

Arrogant Enemy Forces Continue Shelling and Demand That Wainwright Surrender All Forces in Philippines

In his 20th article Gen. Wainwright tells of running up the white flag and of his first contact with his captors.—EDITOR.

By GENERAL JONATHAN M. WAINWRIGHT
(Copyright 1945, King Features Syndicate, Inc., and The Edmonton Bulletin. Reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Promptly at noon this terrible May 6, 1942, I ordered the white flag run up and firing from what was left of our Corregidor batteries ceased. It was with the sickening of feelings that I gave the white flag-raising order to Col. Paul D. Bunker.

But the Japs continued to hit us vehemently—thoroughly dishonorable tactics. At 12:30 I had Brig. Gen. Lewis Beebe repeat the message once more, and the vigil—with its fears of total destruction—went on.

Just before 1 p.m., however, there appeared to be a slackening of the enemy fire. I therefore sent a marine officer with a white flag to the Jap position, now within easy range of the east entrance of the tunnel. I instructed him to find the senior Jap officer of the invading force and ask the man to come to the tunnel and meet with me.

For one tortuous hour I waited, while the shelling continued intermittently, and then I saw the marine returning to the tunnel. "He won't come to see you, general," the marine reported. "He insists that you go to meet him."

I took off my service automobile and put it on my headquarters dock—the last I was to see of that weapon. Major Gen. George F. Moore and his aide Maj. Bob Brown, my aide, Col. Johnny Pugh and Major Tom Dooley, and I then walked out with the marine officer, and started for the enemy lines in Moore's Chevrolet. The shelling had died down considerably, but a flight of Jap planes was bombing the island and enemy machine gunners from their places on Denver Hill sprayed shots at us as we approached.

GOT OUT OF CAR
We got out of the car at the foot of Denver Hill and began to ascend.

render terms with you," I said. "Take it to the senior officer present on Corregidor."

While Lt. Uramura considered this, the Jap colonel walked up. He was not a commander of troops, but a staff officer either of Gen. Maabara, Honma's headquarters or of the division which had made the landing. He spoke no English.

But through Uramura I told him that I was surrendering the remainder of the four fortified islands at the mouth of Manila Bay. I made no mention of other, and less-occupied, Philippine forces.

The Jap colonel looked at me sharply when Uramura relayed my message to him. He spoke an angry torrent of Japanese which, translated by Uramura, told me what I already knew: that Uramura had stated that my surrender must include all forces in the entire Philippines.

"In that case I will deal only with General Honma and with no one of less rank," I replied. "I want an appointment with him. I have made repeated efforts to contact him by radio."

JAP COLONEL AGREES

The Jap colonel then agreed to take me to Cabanatuan, on Batan, under the terms of the broadcast.

I had planned to use my own boat, which was anchored at the south dock of Corregidor for protection against the shelling. It had to be now brought around the island to the north dock. I invited the Jap colonel to walk with me to the north dock to pick up my boat when it arrived, and he agreed.

I asked Gen. Moore to return to the tunnel to watch out for things until my return from Batan, and then I turned to tell Johnny Pugh to accompany me and the Jap colonel. But Pugh had already departed, bent upon seeing to it personally that the boat got from the south dock to the north dock, and also to see that I received some of my personal effects.

Pugh's path back to the east entrance of the tunnel became beset with a sudden and tremendous barrage of shelling. But by crawling, crouching and edging along with what little cover he could find he made it—an act of striking heroism. In the tunnel he hastily packed a few of my things, found Gen. Beebe and several others and with them headed for the south dock and my boat.

But the shelling which Pugh had survived caused the Jap colonel to stop in his tracks, for the road to the north dock lay through that same bombardment. The Jap reused to proceed further in fear of being killed by his own shells, and said so. It was the chance I had been waiting for.

CARNIVAL—"I suppose this is what you mean, Simpson, when you said your wife treated your dinner guests just like members of the family!"

"Why the hell don't you people stop shooting!" I shouted at him. "I put up the white flag hours ago."

NOT YET ACCEPTED

He crouched there, watching the shelling for a time. And then turning to me he said, through his interpreter, "We have not accepted any surrender from you, so yet."

He got up then and led us—Dooley, myself and Uramura—away from the concentrated fire between us and the north dock. He took us to Corregidor's tiny airfield, in the vicinity of Cavalry Point, close to the landing beaches. The Japs were still debarking men and paused only long enough to stare truculently at Dooley and me.

The Jap colonel contacted Batan by radio and ordered a Jap boat to come over and fetch us. We then walked down to Cavalry Point and waited.

It was nearly 4 o'clock by the time the Jap boat arrived for us. It was a 30-foot tank barge with a letdown front and mounted a 2½-inch gun. It had difficulty reaching the shoreline so it put over a rubber raft. Two Jap sailors jumped into the water beside the raft and swam across to the beach. It took the four of us to the tank barge in two trips. We shoved off for Batan—and Gen. Honma.

The first man I saw when the Jap assault boat nudged against the small dock at Cabanatuan, on the late afternoon of this dismal May 6, was Maj. Bill Lawrence. Lawrence had been a first sergeant of my regiment years before when I was colonel of the Third Cavalry, back in the States. With brief exception he had been with me ever since.

RUSH OF MEMORIES

Bill's face brought back a rush of memories of the States, tormenting memories at a time like this.

"Hello, general," he said, helping me out of the Jap boat. "I come over with General Beebe and Col. Pugh. They couldn't find you at the north dock on The Beach, so they came ahead. They and Sergeant Carroll just took a Jap truck and went off to look for you, figuring you might have landed somewhere else."

The Jap colonel took brisk charge of things now. From several Jap officers at the Cabanatuan dock he learned that I was to meet Honma at a small three-quarters of a mile northeast of Cabanatuan, on the main east coast road of Batan.

The colonel ordered a car. Tom Dooley and I got in, followed by the colonel, Lt. Uramura and Bill Lawrence. And in deep and reflective silence we were driven west, the road the same one which our 11 Corps had been ruthlessly driven in the first days of Batan.

WAIT FOR HONMA
We arrived presently at a porch-strewn and dingy white house, not far from the beach, and walked up a truck drive, carrying Beebe, Pugh, Carroll and a group of Jap soldiers. Beebe, Pugh and Carroll joined us on the porch, and the sense and silent wait for Honma began.

For the next hour we just stood there on the porch, growing more restless by the minute. It was a wall broken only by the arrival of a Jap soldier with some cold water, which all of us drank eagerly. We had not eaten for 24 hours.

After another period of waiting we were suddenly ordered to move off the porch and line up on the lawn in front of the steps. This was for the benefit of Jap newsmen and still-camera-men. They took our pictures over and over again for about 30 minutes.

We were still standing there when Honma arrived that evening. (Tomorrow, Gen. Honma's threat to annihilate the men and women of Corregidor in 48 hours, Wainwright did not bring about the surrender of all forces in the Philippines.)

Says Fraud Probe Curbed at Ottawa

OTTAWA, Oct. 31.—(U.P.)—C. C. Cardenas, an investigator for the Prices Stabilization Corporation, complained his activities had been restricted after he uncovered frauds by firms receiving government subsidies. It was disclosed yesterday when his letter of resignation was tabled in the Commons.

Mr. Cardenas' letter claimed his activities had recovered about $1,000,000 for the government and if some frauds had not been stopped "it would have cost the taxpayers further millions."

Chief investigator T. L. Daniels, accepting Mr. Cardenas' resignation, effective Nov. 1, wrote that unless each government department restricted the activities of its officers in departmental matters, "a state of unutterable chaos would result."

He also replied to charges made by Mr. Cardenas that "it is one thing during the course of investigations to form an impression or suspicion that a certain state of affairs exists but it is quite another thing to be able to prove it successfully as a court of law."

The cashing was tabled by State Secretary Martin at the request of Stanley Knowles (C.C.P.—Winning North) who yesterday passed questions on the order game seeking information on the disposition of investigations which he said were carried out after Mr. Cardenas had made reports.

Canadian Sailor Takes Own Life In San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31.—(U.P.)—The body of a young man, wearing a Royal Canadian Navy uniform, was found in a small park here yesterday with a bullet wound through the head and a 45 calibre point by his side.

In a pocket were a young girl's photograph and a note saying, "My last wish is to be buried at sea."

The note was signed either "Duffy" or "Lucky." There were no other marks of identification. The photograph was of a girl (twelve 12 and 13 years). It was from the studio of Rapid Grip and Reisin in West Toronto, and bore the number 21164190.

AGAIN - How about you?

HE'S BACK...

As a fighting man he did more for us than we can ever hope to repay. Yet all he asks in return is a fair chance to find and fill the right civilian job.

The least we can do is to see that he gets this help: see that every young veteran is fitted for the future through the Government's Rehabilitation Program.

Under this program returned men and women are trained, equipped, and directed into farming, factories, business or professions according to their ambition and ability. Some need hospitalization, some pensions—all get gratuities and re-establishment credits.

It's going to take a lot of money to carry to completion such a vital and comprehensive plan. Every Canadian will have to dig deep to raise the sum that's needed.

Now that the shooting and shouting are over, let's tell these fellows that we are still interested! Let's come through and make their training for the future our first and most important job!

Get behind the 9th Victory Loan!

HERE'S A YOUNG MECHANIC
who learned his trade under Post Discharge Re-Establishment, and is now a skilled operator. The dollars you invest in the 9th Victory Loan will help others to become as happily re-established.

THIS DISABLED LAD is getting the very best of care. Your 9th Victory Loan dollars will make it possible for all such cases to carry on until they can get back on their feet again. Everyone must help. It is the least we can do.

BY SUPPORTING THE 9TH VICTORY LOAN you help young veterans to take up their studies where they left off. Canada recognizes the need to give such returning men and women every opportunity to complete their education.

THIS "VETERAN" FARMER was once a bomb aimer and he played bombs for victory. What he sows today will add to the growth of Canada. You can help many young farmers like this by backing the 9th Victory Loan.

SENIOR hockey schedule released today shows Edmonton Flyers will have a jaunt around the circuit after opening home ice against Calgary Stampedeers next Wednesday, Nov. 7. They play in the Foxhills City on Saturday, Nov. 10, and go to Regina four days later, visiting Saskatoon on Nov. 15.

Second game at home for the Flyers will be with Regina on Saturday, Nov. 17. Edmonton fans will have their first view of the Saskatoon club on Dec. 1.

All clubs of course will have 18 home games, with the Christmas week holiday dates equally divided. Edmonton will be in Calgary on Boxing Day and the Stampedeers will celebrate New Year's Day as guests of the Flyers at the Arena here.

MONARCHS HERE THURSDAY

ALREADY having had a chance to check over Regina Commandos and Moose Jaw Canucks, generally rated the two top junior teams in Saskatchewan this season, Edmonton fans this week will have an opportunity to gain first hand information as to the class of hockey Manitoba will be producing between now and playoff time next spring.

Canadians held their final workout Tuesday night in preparation for the two sessions at the Arena with Winnipeg Monarchs. Thursday's game will start at 8:30 p.m. and Saturday at 2 o'clock.

All delegates attending the meeting of the Edmonton District Hockey Association last night seemed far from the ice for last Saturday's Moose Jaw-Canadians exhibition was far from what it should have been, especially in the third period. Ice condition for practice also drew sharp criticism.

Webb Is Kayoed By Al Phillips In Sixth Round

LONDON, Oct. 31.—(Reuters).—Al Phillips of London last night scheduled eight-round boxing bout and knocked out the Montrealer in the sixth round.

Phillips scored eight knock-downs, a right hook to the head, sent the Canadian arm hosed down for a count of two. Another right hook put Webb on the canvas for a seven count. In quick succession he went down for counts of six, two, nine, eight, nine and two.

Webb bowed carefully in the second round and appeared to be recovering strength. In the third, the Montrealer's best round, he caught Phillips on the jaw with a well-timed right hook and put the Londoner down for a count of seven.

British Soccer Players Favor Strike Action

MANCHESTER, Eng., Oct. 31.—(CP)—Britain's professional soccer players were reported Tuesday voting 10 to one in favor of going on strike for increased pay.

Balancing the scale in the players' favor was a week ago after the club owners' association rejected demands for a 10 per cent increase in pay.

Many allowed full-time players to work on a part-time basis as much and all players are paid only during the league season. The increase would be on the grounds of "inability to pay."

A suggestion by one club official that British football players in years if not health plays as good as it is now," he told sports writers at a press conference.

The war office confirmed that "soldiers are not allowed to take part in strike activities" but declined to say whether refusal to play soccer for professional clubs would be regarded as a strike.

A possibility of averting the threatened strike was seen in statements by union leaders and club owners that indicated a willingness to negotiate the demands for higher pay.

The manager of one London club whose directors have been considering mediation declared "Nobody would lose prestige by negotiation." Sammy Crooks, union chairman, said "The players would be glad to meet in a spirit of reasonableness."

The players are asking that full time professionals be paid a maximum £12 (about $20) a week with a minimum of £4 a week for service players and those players engaged in war work.

Reds Are Allowed Claim 7 Players

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—(AP)—A. R. (Happy) Chandler, in his first official decision as baseball commissioner, Tuesday allowed the claims of Cincinnati Reds to seven players of the Birmingham club of the southern association.

Chandler's decision was announced by Leslie O'Connor, his special assistant, although the commissioner declined to be interviewed in the case earlier yesterday at Washington.

Phil Horn was named director of juvenile and midget hockey for the ensuing season at a meeting of the Edmonton District Hockey Association held on Tuesday night. Art Potter, president, was in the chair.

Bill Ruff and Mickey McGuire were appointed joint directors of the bantam division.

Deadline for entry of teams both juvenile and midget sections was set at Monday, Nov. 19, at which time it was anticipated the probable makeup of the bantam group would also be ascertained.

All juvenile games will be played at 129 street and again this week and this season, along with the South Side rink and Alberta Avenue rinks will be used for midget hockey.

Although the complete juvenile setup will not be known until Nov. 19, at least six teams will be entered, Canadian and Maple Leaf clubs are both entered with teams, one each from South Side and EAC organizations.

St. Albert and 49th Battalion had clubs last season, but it is understood neither will be represented this year.

Seven teams already are in sight for the midget group—two each from Canadian, Edmonton and Maple Leaf athletic clubs and one from South Side Athletic Association.

IT IS TIME TO GO FORWARD

ALD. HARRY D. AINLAY

During the past five years very little of a constructive nature could be accomplished in the way of public works because of the shortage of men and materials. Now the whole picture is changed and we are in a position to follow a vigorous policy. We need a new outlook in the Civic Block.

Our streets are in a disgraceful condition. No other modern city would tolerate the dirt roads on many of our main streets. In addition to being economically unsound these conditions give our city a village appearance.

Extensive investigations have proven that we pay for good roads whether by the way of the wear and tear on private and commercial vehicles costs more than the annual charges on the investment in paved streets and roads.

We should have a real program of city beautification. Nature has given us a beautiful setting but we have done little to make it a beautiful city. Our park areas and the river valley could be developed to make Edmonton the loveliest city in Canada.

Many of our outlying districts have little or no facilities for recreation. The land is there but short-sighted policy has prevented the development of community projects that would be an asset to the city and a source of enjoyment for old and young.

Civic authorities have given little encouragement to the Community Leagues, the only bodies which have made any contribution to the development of the communities which make up our city. My policy would be to give every encouragement and assistance to the Leagues in the extension of their activities.

These are a few of the policies which should be pressed with vigor at once. They would provide work which would be of lasting benefit to our city.

South Side Will Play Maple Leafs

EDMONTON Junior Hockey League will open at the arena next Tuesday, Nov. 6, with Maple Leafs and South Side the opposing teams, it was decided at the meeting held last night. The game will start at 8:30 o'clock.

Canadian and Edmonton Athletic Clubs will play the following Saturday, Nov. 10. The tentative schedule which is still to be approved, calls for a total of 36 games.

A possible revision in the percentage shares of the four clubs, under which winning teams would receive a larger split at the end of the season, is seen as a result of discussion at Tuesday night's meeting. Last year all four participated on an equal basis, no exception being made even for playoffs.

Prospective referees are invited to place applications with Art Potter, junior director, or with the secretary, George Ward. A meeting is planned for the arena next Monday evening, and aspiring officials will be asked to attend for a round table discussion of rules, interpretations, etc.

A suggestion of making some provision for covering accidents is receiving attention and Art Potter, who was in the chair reported that as president of the Edmonton District Hockey Association, he had been advised the Varsity risk would be available this coming winter.

Potter will represent the junior league at the annual meeting of the AHA in Calgary on Nov. 10. All four clubs also are sending delegates.

Junior practices for Friday, Nov. 8, are as follows: 6:00 p.m., South Side; 7:30 p.m., Canadians; 8:30 p.m., Maple Leafs; 9:30 p.m., EAC.

Today's Sport Parade

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—(BUP)—Herman Hickman, the one-man community who developed army's line into a junior division of Murder, Inc., trundled down out of Sinus Valley Tuesday to reminiscence about his Tennessee kinfolk and get a bit of succor from his "babies."

Herman weighs a shrinking 285 pounds, which makes him just about 15 underweight because of the way his "babies" in that cold forward wall have been belting him around in practice.

"It's a bit like my Uncle Joe down home in the hills," Herman sighed as he eased into a heap of chairs.

A couple of years ago during army maneuvers, the Blue Army had one of its objectives a hill called No. 10. Well, right up there on top of that hill was Uncle Joe. Herman. He just sat there, spraying tobacco juice on the fire, and the barrage kept getting closer and closer. Finally, Uncle Joe jumped up, ran out the door, held up his hands and yelled:

"I don't care what Robert E. Lee says—I've surrendered!"

WELL, Herman himself has surrendered momentarily. He's giving up mixing it up with that army and those cold backs "just for fun" the big fellow is inclined to think it was easier work being an all-league guard in the national professional football league back there in 1933 and 1934. He knows it didn't hurt half so much being an all-American guard at Tennessee in 1935.

"Those babies of mine remind me of Peashead Walker, when I coached with him at Wake Forest," Herman smiled. "Peashead had an all southern conference fullback who was knocked cold in scrimmage."

"Or him off the field," Peashead roared.

"I can't count," said the trainer, "why, he isn't even breathing."

"Well, you're a doctor," laughed Peashead, "make him breathe."

And that, according to Hickman, is how his "babies" like to play.

They're making fewer mistakes and they're settled down," he explained. "Michigan was our toughest game and Notre Dame will be as tough as any. But we've won five games and next comes Villanova—and let me tell you, a team run by a doctor isn't to be trifled with."

Hickman recalled that Army started its second team against the underdog Melville.

"They had two banners before we could take a drink of water," he said.

ARMY CAME BACK

OF course, Army came back to win. And last Saturday it routed unmercifully over Duke. Against the Blue Devils, Herman thought the officials were wrong when they called Army back in motion. To which Steve Owen of the giants replied:

"The way those army backs go once they get started, Herman, I wouldn't worry about being in a hurry to get 'em off."

Herman snorted through his bohemian nose, made a slight southern remark about the Hudson Valley, which he has named Sinus Valley, and then admitted:

"No, those backs we have are pretty good at that."

Well, one of our guards took me we were on the Nov. 16 and was third down and two to go," Herman said. "You know my babies on the line are pretty rugged all over at the Navy guard and he said to that middle like this:

"Buddy, our Mr. Blanchard is going to come right through here in the next play. I don't know what you're going to do—but I'm going to get the hell out of the way."

Herman, at the moment, felt the same way about it.

Senators Receive Big Series Cut

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Washington Senators received $25,000 from 1945 world series receipts as second-place winners in the American League.

Twenty-seven members of the team received $1,114.44 each, the front office $100,000 Tuesday. Eleven others received from $35,000 to $125,000.

Jack Wade of Hallock, Alta., was third with 206.

The event was won by Carl Huckleford of Fort Pierre, S.D., with 225 points.

Epidemic of VD Sweeping Canada

TORONTO, Oct. 31.—(CP)—A threatened post-war epidemic of venereal disease already is under way in Canada. Major Georges Leclerc, venereal disease controller for the Canadian Army, said here last night. He said the incidence for Canadian troops in Europe had soared since VE-Day and a "marked increase" in the rate among servicemen stationed in Canada had been noted. The rate for both August and September among servicemen in Canada was double that of last February, he said.

OAKLAND, Calif., Oct. 31.—(AP)—Dr. John Campbell Stewart, 74, noted paleontologist, educationist and president emeritus of Carnegie Institution of Washington, D.C., died Tuesday after six months' illness.

Capacity Congregation at Service For Dedication of Church Organ

In its recently-decorated outside appearance, marked particularly by ornate windows from which shone the orange lights of welcome, Highlands United Church, Tuesday evening host to a packed congregation, provided the answer to the present day's capacity doubt in the strength of the church society.

If Tuesday's organ-dedication and commemorative service is any criterion, Edmonton's churches have as strong a part in the life of the city as at any time in Edmonton's history.

BUILDING PACKED

Members of the congregation, together with friends and adherents of churches from all parts of the city, started filling the stained-glass pews shortly after 8 p.m. By the time the service got underway at 8:15, the building was packed, and Highlands United's new, two-manual Casavant had been seen by hundreds of pairs of eyes. The organ, installed just last week, was placed in the church in commemoration of those members and others who had made the supreme sacrifice in the past year.

A copper plate plaque attached to the organ is inscribed "In Memory of the Men who Gave Their Lives, and to Honor the Men and Women who served in the Forces 1939-1945". The dedication service was conducted by the Rev. C. A. E. Pocock, while the organ, for the first time, was played by Elizabeth Gallimore, I.T.C.M. L.M.U.S.

SEVERAL SOLOS

Organ solos selected by Mrs. Gallimore included Introduction and Passacaglia, by Roger Prelude, Wesley; Chorale Prelude, Bach; and the Siciliana and Gigue by Arne.

Other prominent Edmonton musicians who took part in the service included Miss Bernice Westley, soprano; Frank Williams, baritone; William Smith, tenor; and Jack Williams, baritone.

Tribute was paid to the minister of the church, Capt. the Rev. T. R. Davis, M.C., who has been away on active service, during which he was awarded the Military Cross for outstanding courage in the face of heavy and concentrated fire.

In addition to the installation of the new organ, the total range and versatility of which was deeply praised and admiration Tuesday evening, Highlands United church this summer underwent an exterior redecoration and other adjustments designed to prepare it for its place as one of the leaders among city church groups.

PROMINENT ROLE

An "old-timer" among local churches, Highlands United has been with this city for more than 30 years, and today with midweek study groups and other gatherings in addition to its Sunday services, plays a prominent part in the life of the district.

Vote Campaign

familiarise myself with its problems. Dealing with demands for the remodeling and expansion of certain outlying schools, the candidate considered it better to build new schools than tear down old ones and rebuild them. "But he went on, 'we can't operate a school system when 94 per cent of the money comes from the taxation of land.'"

"The only solution," he considered, was for the Dominion and provincial governments to bear a greater share in the cost of education."

CITY "IN PICKLE"

W. H. O'Neill, Independent Labor, alderman, who came to Edmonton in 1910, said that successive city councils, allegedly composed of business men, have brought the city to the pickle it is in today. We would have been better off without them.

A. J. Cormie, school trustee, speaking for A. E. Ottewill, seeking re-election as school trustee, said that the long service rendered by Mr. Ottewill will be of the utmost assistance to the city with so many new candidates coming forward for election to the school board. He explained that Mr. Ottewill is at present in hospital and will not be able to attend any of the meetings.

Rice Sheppard, Independent, alderman, "My thanks for the support given me last year. I didn't really expect to be staying," he said, "but I hoped to stir up Edmonton, and I think I succeeded."

After telling his own family's part in two wars from his sons' in the last to his grandson's and a granddaughter's in this, Mr. Sheppard voiced his disappointment in veterans' housing schemes, which he considered "not good enough for them."

"I want to be doing something," he concluded, "I don't want to work for nothing, as I shall have in if you don't elect me. But whether you do or not I'll work anyway."

Candidates on the Citizens' Committee slate were asked numerous questions, mostly dealing with proposals to improve street lighting conditions in the Calder area, improved conditions in the schools, the construction of sidewalks, and graveling of roads.

Also on the question list was the agreement between the city and the Calgary Power Company. One questioner asked if the Citizens' Committee candidates were prepared to continue indefinitely the present agreement which was working to the detriment of the city.

John Munro, Citizens' Committee aldermanic candidate, replied that he was not on council when the agreement was made, and did not know its details. He said that he would consider all proposals that came before council if elected and would deal with them on their merits, supporting them if in the best interests of all the citizens, rejecting them if they were detrimental.

Ald. Winslow Hamilton, answering a question from a member of the audience, denied that he was over an employee of the Calgary Power Company, and also denied that he was the sponsor of a motion in city council designed to increase street railway fares.

He was asked also if it was not a fact that he had missed a considerable number of council meetings. Ald. Hamilton said that he was engaged on a very important matter in connection with the gas conservation board, and had missed some council meetings, but that the number appeared to be greatly exaggerated. He added that he had gained considerable knowledge through this work which would be useful to the city.

Delay Decision on Grant Payment

OTTAWA, Oct. 31.—(CP)—The Commons committee on veterans affairs faced with a motion that amounted to forgetting dishonourable discharges in payment of discharge benefits, ended a hectic meeting yesterday with an 18-15 vote to adjourn rather than put it to a vote without further consideration.

Its members, continuing debate on a subject that has occupied much of their time, heard a letter from Maj.-Gen. A. E. Walford, adjutant general, that warned that any such action would have a serious effect on the maintenance of discipline in the army both at home and overseas, but mainly during the difficult period of winter ahead in Europe.

The sections describe those who are not to receive discharge benefits because of the nature of their discharges and provide for a board of review to review such discharges and recommend whether they should be overruled and the benefits paid.

Ottawa to Sell Wartime Steamers

VANCOUVER, Oct. 31.—(CP)—The Vancouver Sun said in a news-page story yesterday that it had learned from sources in "Ottawa" that the entire Park Steamship fleet of 250 foreign-built and owned, 10,000-ton and 1,700-ton freighters will shortly be offered for sale, chiefly to Canadian shipping companies.

By Capt. HARPER PROWSE, M.L.A.

ONE of the characteristics of our modern industrial system is that many classes of employment are affected by such conditions as weather, necessary plant alterations, fluctuations in the supply of raw materials, fluctuations in demand and many other conditions. This means that from time to time workers will find themselves temporarily unemployed through conditions beyond anybody's control.

This is, unfortunately, true most often of those industries where wages are the lowest. This means that such workers do not earn enough when they are employed to enable them to save enough during their periods of unemployment to carry them through the periods of unemployment. To meet this situation a guarantee to workers a measure of security the Unemployment Insurance Act was passed in 1930.

Under this act each employee and employer contribute amounts based on the wage paid to the employee, and when he becomes unemployed the employee has a right to receive payments which vary in direct relation to his weekly earnings. Payments run from $4.00 minimum to a maximum of $14.00. The length of time for which an employee may receive payments is based on the length of time he has been a contributor under the act.

Briefly, he can claim payment for the number of days he has been unemployed.

Firm Prepares For Air Service To the Orient

Terming the Far East as "the new frontier for American enterprise," Civil Engineer, president and general manager of Northwest Airlines Ltd., recently gave some details of plans for operating several new transcontinental routes to the Orient.

The U.S. Board of Civil Aeronautics has already recommended that Northwest Air Lines be granted the right to operate a route from Minneapolis by way of Edmonton and the Northwest Mailing Route to Alaska.

WAKE PREPARATIONS

The board did not recommend the company's application to fly to Seattle and Tacoma in Alaska but Northwest is proceeding with a program of equipment and airport expansion just in case.

If the company is granted the routes it seeks, it would require a minimum fleet of 19 four-engine planes and 23 twin-engine aircraft to fly a total of 81,000 miles daily.

First of several B-74s, each with a capacity of 44 passengers, will be delivered in January and February of next year. Even larger planes will be utilized on the planned services to the Far East, it was stated.

Northwest, along with Western Air Lines, was one of the big military contractor operators of the U.S. AAF along the northwest route during the war.

THE QUESTION

Do you think this will be a safe and sane Halloween?

THE ANSWERS

GORDON HANSON, trucker: I think it will be pretty safe for the safe side. It is unlikely that there will be anything more than a few mad dogs let out, and some mischief in the streets.

JAMES HARKNESS, accountant: I think it will be a safe and sane Halloween. I don't think there will be anything more than a few mad dogs let out, and some mischief in the streets.

ELIZABETH STONEMAN, student: I am sure there will be much visiting of houses for apples, and shell-outs of various kinds. And if you want to be on the safe side, hide your garbage can and put your car in the garage early. But these nights are not conducive to much outdoor merrymaking.

The democratic merrymaking goes out in the field and gathers pollen right alongside the workers of the colony.

Goblins With Fantastic Masks

Hallowe'en Will Be Celebrated To Parade Through City Tonight

On Wednesday night, the most frightening apparition Edmontonians will encounter on the streets will be very young goblins with fantastic masks, witches carrying mother's brooms for real effect and spookily ghosts garbed in a discarded sheet or two. Even the cold weather and snow will not spoil the occasion.

In many parts of this city, disguised children, climbing on their flowing, apparel and clothing, will stomp and then hold out begging pails, or overflowing baskets full of "trick-or-treat" goodies. Weeks from now parents will be wondering what to do with remains of tomorrow night's loot that will be tucked away and forgotten.

But Hallowe'en was the night that the spirits of the dead wandered abroad not too long ago. Known as the vigil of All Saints'.

Because of its supernatural atmosphere, Hallowe'en is supposed to be a day when the future is open to the future. Instead of prophecies of death, however, by costume, the spiritual world of today's children in crystal gazing and prophetic games is used to determine the characteristics and personality of their true love.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Leave the Woman Who Neglects Home Duties

Wounded G.I. Gets Unwifely Mate Who Will Not Care for Him and is Advised to Go Back to His Parents Until He is Well Again

DEAR MISS DIX: My wife was 20 and I was 21 when we got married. I was in the service but she was a nurse. I was discharged because of a wound. I am very unhappy. My wife spends every day at her mother's and I have to go there in the evenings and take her home in the car. She refuses to cook any meals and I have to bring my own food. She won't give me any spending money and I never have a cent in my pocket. She doesn't keep the house tidy, or the baby clean, and I'd want any cleaner clothes I have to wash them myself.

I left a nice home, a nice car and good parents to marry her. My father and mother told me I didn't know her well enough and to wait until I was better acquainted with her, but I wouldn't do it. I'm now 23 in this fix. So my advice to all boys is to find out what kind of a person a girl is before they marry her. And if she is lazy don't look at her. What would you advise me to do?

DISGUSTED VETERAN
GO BACK TO PARENTS
Answer: Well you certainly are finding that the battle on the home front can be even fiercer than that on the firing line. Apparently your wife wants to drive you away and she is trying to starve you out, so why don't you go back to your parents until you can recover from your wound and get some by which you can support yourself and the baby. If you have no trade, now or in the future, then you can't support a family. The government school which is trying to rehabilitate the men and put them on their feet so that they can be independent.

But why do you have to ask your wife for money when you must have your allowance? Surely if you are ally enough to take that over to a wife who takes all and gives nothing, and even begrudges you the bread that is bought with your money, you deserve what you get.

YOUNG GIRL
DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I'm a young girl in love with my stepfather. I cannot understand why as he is twice as old as I am. I am terrified that my mother might find out what is between us. What shall I do?

PIERRETTE
Answer: Many young girls make false infatuation for love. It is the first stirring of sex within them. But it ruins their lives all the same, whether they marry some boy they think they are in love with, or whether some boy who has taken advantage of their ignorance to seduce them.

One newspaper man is the lowest scoundrel in the world. If under-

Your Baby Bulletin Patterns

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDER and ANNE ADAMS

The eating behavior of little children can be both unexpected and disconcerting. Mrs. E. B. has a baby now past one year of age and she wonders what she should do with the baby's poor eating habits. "My friends say they have all had this trouble. My baby won't eat with all the fruit and vegetables, but only the cereal. I hesitate to take him away from home for fear he may spoil someone's carpet or wall paper."

Keep a sharp eye out when you think the baby is ready to stop eating some certain food. While an adult would have to give gracefully the suggestion of another helping, the baby takes the direct way and simply pushes the offending spoon and over contents from him. It is clearly a stop sign and one to be heeded.

But the child who, as he is ready to begin feeding himself, engages one hand with a spoon even though he would use for greater efficiency in getting him food. When he is fed on a tray, he will not use the spoon. He will use it unless he is hungry.

Explains Rehabilitation

"Canada's rehabilitation program, the most complete ever formulated, is not charity nor reward for service, but it is an attempt to provide veterans with facilities for self-help," said Mr. W. H. Waddell, rehabilitation liaison officer for the Veterans' Canadian club at the Montreal area, when he addressed the Women's Canadian club at a afternoon meeting in the Macdonald hotel, Monday.

Mr. Waddell outlined the rights of the honorably discharged servicemen, such as medical and dental examinations, rehabilitation grants, clothing allowances, war service gratuities. In addition to the services for which a veteran has the right to make application, provided he has the proper qualifications, such as training, experience, rehabilitation credit, and Veterans' Land Act.

Rehabilitation is not merely a government activity," the speaker said. "It is a mutual effort in which the government, industry, the community and veteran all take an equal part. New horizons of our servicemen will be determined by the success with which each part is executed."

The speaker compared the four groups as separate links in a chain, and pointed out how adequately help is definite duty and responsibility to carry.

As a former "personnel counsellor," who assists discharged servicemen and women to make an intelligent selection of their post-war career, the speaker cited instances that proved how adequately help is afforded the discharged personnel to become re-adjusted to their new civilian life and training.

Touching on the responsibilities and duty each group of the "chain" were obligated to carry out, the speaker concluded with the admonition that for the future, the willingness of the people to receive a him back in Canadian society, as a good citizen.

Who's Who in Edmon-Teens

City Woman Crack Shot

—Photograph by Studio ROYAL.

Mrs. D. E. Campbell, after only 14 months of shooting with the Greater Edmonton Rifle Association, has won the distinction of being the first woman in the club to win the most difficult of shooting feats, the "master" rating.

ENDURANCE TEST

In the sporting life event, two extra bulls are stapled to the end of a regular D.M. target and the competitor fires two shots at one of the bulls and three at each of the others. All of the 20 shots must be fired during one "draw," or in other words, one after the other without leaving the firing point.

Both events, therefore, become twice as difficult as the usual events which require that only ten shots be fired during one test. Furthermore, they combine a very rigid test of endurance and nerve with all the qualities of marksmanship.

The "master" brassard can only be won by competitors who have completed similar tests with similar score requirements in the rifleman, marksman and expert events.

Mrs. Campbell won her first three badges, the Tyro, Rifleman and Marksman, in the first stages of shooting. Her Dominion Marksman Expert Shield she won in April, eight months after the outset of her shooting career.

In her Marksman she won ten "X" badges; in the Expert, 19 "X" rings when only 16 "X" were required and in her outstanding feat of the "masters," she scored 20 "X's."

HER OWN RIFLE

Mrs. Campbell has her own rifle, a Winchester 30.06, and says she loves shooting. Evident surprise is expressed by her own remarkable feats and the modesty declares that she was "just lucky."

Mrs. Campbell has also won several other smaller competitions, such as the competition conducted at St. Albert when she won the mixed competition, an achievement of no small matter since she is the only woman competitor, but men, well, who were expert shots. In the Nationals competition, she stood third in the ladies ratings.

THE PERSONAL COLUMN

It is a compliment to Miss Edith E. Murphy, whose marriage to H. P. Campbell, takes place on Saturday, that a cellulous shower was held in the parish hall of St. Alphonsus church on Tuesday evening. Hostesses included Mrs. William Schiller, Mrs. Stanley McLean, Mrs. J. Macfarlane, Mrs. A. Griffin, Mrs. Thomas Hagg and Mrs. Arthur Hagg. The hall was decorated with Hallows'en colors and bingo and a sing song were enjoyed by the guests.

Miss Marie Connolly, who has been visiting in Bridgeport, New York, Montreal and Toronto, returned to Edmonton on Wednesday morning.

A bazaar will be held by the evening group of St. Paul's Anglican church, in the parish hall, Nov. 2 at 8 p.m. Refreshing will be Mrs. L. M. Watts and Mrs. C. Aspin. There is a charge of the table ladies: Miss Nora Waters, home cooking; Mrs. R. F. Smith, toys; Mrs. E. Burns, children's wear; Mrs. B. G. Cairns, fancy work; Mrs. R. McKay, aprons.

● Throughout Canada today tens of thousands of our boys have turned from the grim tasks of war and are anxious to learn useful peacetime vocation:

● Many of these boys went overseas before they had finished their education—many were too young to have established themselves. After long years of war it is absolutely essential that they be given a thorough vocational training.

● The least we can do is to help these boys accomplish their aim. They have fought long for us—and it is our duty to see that they are well equipped to re-enter civilian life.

● Canada's vocational training plans—in fact her complete rehabilitation programs—are among the finest in the world. This is one of the reasons why this present Victory Loan is so vitally important. Your purchase of Victory Bonds will help to give some young veteran a chance to carve a career for himself. And remember—there is only one Loan during the next 12 months—so buy more than ever before.
